* Consolation games will have no overtime.

Overtime and Shoot-out Procedures

Overtime Procedure: If at the end of three regular stop-time periods of play, the score is tied, a five minute stop-time overtime period will follow immediately. The team that scores first wins the game (Sudden Death). If at the conclusion of regular play, there is insufficient ice time left to complete an overtime period, the Shoot-out will begin immediately and will be the sole determination of the game winner. Also, there will be no overtime in consolation games.

Shoot-out Procedure: Prior to the beginning of the game, coaches from both teams will submit the names of ten players. The first FIVE players on both lists will alternately shoot on the opposing goaltender in penalty-shot fashion using USA Hockey rules. A coin flip will determine which team shoots first. One point will be awarded for each goal scored. Once the first set of five players from each team has shot, the score is tallied. If either team has a higher score, that team wins the game. Otherwise, the 6th player from both teams will shoot. From this point, if the score is still tied, the 7th player from each team will shoot, etc. If after the 10th round, a winner still has not been determined, then the remaining players left on both benches (not listed in the first 10) will shoot until a winner is declared or the lesser of two rosters is exhausted. At the point where one team's bench has been exhausted, the original list of 10 players are repeated with the score tallied after each set of two players (one from each team). This continues until a winner is found.

Goaltenders: Goaltenders who are goaltending at the time of the shoot-out are ineligible to shoot. If she is one of the top 10 listed, all numbers behind her on that team move up one notch. Back-up goaltenders may participate in the shooting but only after removing the goaltender's pads.

The Deutsch Spirit of the League Award 2007- 2008

The Deutsch Spirit of the League Award is given to a player from the current MAWHL season who promotes the league, plays within the league's code of ethics, and displays excellent sportsmanship.

The MAWHL has a new award this year, the Deutsch Spirit of the League Award, named for Lou and Florence Deutsch. Lou was the Commissioner of the league for 25 years before retiring in 2005. Though Florence, AKA "Mrs. Lou," did not hold an elected office, she did much of the administrative work for the league for those two and a half decades. Florence passed away November 2007. Though the Deutsches were not actively involved in daily league business for the last few seasons, we still enjoyed seeing them at playoffs and Florence is dearly missed by those who knew her.
